BM7206 CONTINUOUS PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT REFLECTION RECORD

Source: Adapted from CMI (CPD Personal Development Record) (CMI)

Insert name here - Insert student number here

BM7206 A13 2025 26 REASSESSMENT portfolio.

SECTION 1A

Development Objective

Describe the specific knowledge, skill, attitude, behaviour or competence that you intend to improve or develop

Start Date

When do you intend to start addressing this objective?

Target Date

When do you intend to complete or review progress in achieving this objective?

Development Outcome

Describe how you expect that achieving this objective will improve your performance

Planned CPD Actions

Describe the specific activities you intend to undertake in order to meet this objective

Develop strategic leadership and decision-making capability by applying leadership theory in real organisational settings. (Knowledge, Skills, Behaviour)

September 2026

January 2027

This is to develop into a more confident leader, skilled at applying evidence and analysing organisational challenges in order to make appropriate strategic choices and implement operational improvement projects. Attaining this goal will enhance my capacity to inspire teams, deal with uncertainty and contribute to the long-term development of the family business. It will also raise my level of preparedness to take up graduate management responsibilities that require leading people (Northouse, 2022).

Enrol in an accredited program in leadership studies; implement one operational improvement endeavour in a family business; obtain monthly input from supervisors; and keep a journal of reflections regarding leadership practices and decisions made during the project.

Strengthen professional communication, presentation and stakeholder engagement skills to improve managerial effectiveness. (Skills, Attitudes, Behaviour)

September 2026

March 2027

This objective will increase my self-assurance when it comes to providing strategic suggestions, holding meetings, and communicating with clients, co-workers, and senior management. Gaining persuasive oral and interpersonal communication skills will enable me to be more successful in making decisions, resolving conflicts, and building relationships with customers across diverse business situations.

Deliver at least six formal presentations while engaging in work or professional activities; be present in networking events or public-speaking sessions on a monthly basis; record presentations and evaluate them; use reflective practice regularly in research, and include feedback in future activities.

Enhance financial and commercial analytical competence for evidence-based business planning and entrepreneurship. (Knowledge, Skills)

October 2026

June 2027

In line with my goal of strengthening my abilities in budgeting, financial analysis, and business assessment, I am determined to lend a hand in organising strategic planning in a family-business context. This would increase my ability to comprehend profitability issues, expense control, and decision-making in financial matters, hence contributing to enhanced employability. Create quarterly financial performance assessment reports; practice applying budgeting and forecasting techniques using Excel; investigate competitor pricing practices and customer behaviour trends every month; engage in financial decision-making discussions with seasoned business leaders, and assess applications of these discussions in practice.

Develop entrepreneurial adaptability and lifelong learning behaviours through continuous professional development. (Knowledge, Attitudes, Behaviour)

September 2026

September 2027

I strive to attain the ability to develop a habit of lifelong learning, which entails learning with a focus on adaptability and innovation. I will know I am successful when I notice improvement in my managerial confidence, reflective practices, and ability to use knowledge gained in practical situations through the CPD programs I have completed.

Finish at least 40 hours of continuous professional development; attend at least three networking events for entrepreneurs; read one book on leadership and management strategy every two months; maintain and adjust CPD portfolio quarterly using reflective evaluation in order to determine future development opportunities.

Personal SWOT Analysis

Strengths: My strongest capability is the ability to examine intricate business challenges through strategic and fact-based reasoning based on what I have acquired from the leadership, strategic management, finance, and business continuity studies. I discovered my resilience and ability to maintain self-discipline when working on my own research as a postgraduate student while juggling a job. My experience working in client-related and coaching areas has allowed me to enhance my communication, flexibility and teamwork abilities.

Weaknesses: Despite my analytical skills being sharpened greatly, my previous experience on multidisciplinary teams in a business context is rather limited.

Feedback on my work during the MBA programme indicated that while I was able to create good descriptions, I lacked critical application of my judgments and analytical skills. The analysis of my work also gave me insight into my weaknesses when giving presentations. I noticed that my self-assurance was lower in situations of a very serious nature.

Opportunities: Acquiring an MBA offers an important experience of the implementation of theory in practice in a family business through better operational planning, enhanced customer experience and new strategic initiatives. At the same time, the increasing need for managers competent in leadership, project management and digital business also provides favourable job prospects for graduates (Northouse, 2022). Moreover, networking, professional development and industry certifications contribute to the practical application of theoretical skills in practice.

Threats: The circumstances around us create various obstacles such as the unpredictable economy, swift digital advancement, and growing competition in the service industry. The demands of clients are changing, so businesses need to constantly develop new ideas while keeping their services at a high level. I understand that attaining an MBA does not guarantee high competitiveness in the job market if one does not continue developing his or her leadership, technological and business skills (Baartman & de Bruijn, 2011). In order to be employable, it is important to apply up-to-date tactics, adapt to the environment and engage in reflection.

SECTION 1Bi comprehensive critical reflection on each academic module (x10 separate entries)

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. If module specifically state module code and module name.

28 November 2025 – BM7200 Global Leadership Challenges: Leadership by Design

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg module / module related activity.

This module changed my previous assumption that leadership is based mainly on positional and authority aspects. After reading the literature about transformational, situational and servant leadership, I realised that effective leadership should be regarded as a process which is context-dependent, moral and emotionally intelligent. One of the most useful parts of the module was an analysis of the drawbacks of transformational leadership if it is compared with distributed and situational approaches. Instead of considering leadership as a style which does not change, I started thinking about it as a skill which requires learning and ethical assessment. It was a big step in my managerial thought and formed the basis for further modules.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

- What have you learnt through completing this activity?
- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

Learning in this module helped me to develop several KSAB competencies. I acquired more knowledge about leadership theories and their practical application in contemporary organisations. In terms of skills, I made progress in solving leadership issues and participating in discussions in class, despite my lack of confidence in presenting my opinion. Using the reflective learning approach helped me to understand my leadership strengths and weaknesses, rather than treating the theory as theoretical knowledge (Gibbs, 1988).

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

I realised that not only directive management but also trust, emotional intelligence and adaptability are needed to motivate people. Therefore, this module improved my skills in collaborative leadership and evidence-based decision-making in conditions of organisational change.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Apply principles of situational leadership in teamwork.

Get feedback on my leadership behaviour from colleagues and managers.

Read more contemporary literature about leadership to improve my evaluation skills.

Build my confidence by organising group discussions and meetings.

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. If module specifically state module code and module name.

3 October 2025 – BM7204 Accounting and Finance for Global Managers

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg module / module related activity.

This assignment, which involved carrying out the BM7204 financial analysis, was regarded as my very first activity of using accounting principles in managerial decision-making in the postgraduate course. The assignment did not involve mere numerical calculations; rather, financial information interpretation, budget making and ratio analysis for the organisational performance evaluation were included in the assignment specifications. My efforts were directed towards guaranteeing the technical accuracy of the financial data. This realisation was essential for changing the approach to my future assignments and ensuring that every financial statement is followed by an analysis and justification of the obtained results.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

- What have you learnt through completing this activity?
- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

The assessment helped me improve my understanding of budgeting, financial reporting and performance assessment. The feedback was also instrumental in improving my critical thinking skills. This is how my practice has changed after this assessment, after I critically analysed my feedback and improved upon the same.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?
identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

The feedback has changed my approach towards financial decision-making in my family business. I have learned to analyse profitability, budgeting and operational efficiency, and interpret financial data in accordance with commercial goals (Atrill & McLaney, 2022).

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Enhance the capability to interpret financial information critically in business reports.

Increase the level of proficiency in using Excel for budgeting and forecasting.

Utilise financial evaluations while making decisions for the family business.

Proceed to practice commercial reasoning based on concrete evidence provided by business case studies.

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. If module specifically state module code and module name.

16 October 2025 – BM7219 Managing Business Continuity in a Global Context

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg module / module related activity.

Through the analysis of hospitality examples and focusing on Marriott Hotels, I investigated the ways in which disruptions in the supply chain, operational failures, and external threats affect organisational resilience and customer satisfaction. An important part of the learning process was the evaluation of how leadership, communication, and recovery planning are related to each other. My view on risk has changed from being considered as something that prevents achieving success to something that helps organisations to recover and develop in times of crisis.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical reflective commentary about

- What have you learnt through completing this activity?
- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

As a result of the module, my knowledge about organisational resilience, BCM, and strategic risk management increased greatly. My skills improved through the analysis of complex situations in organisations and assessment of the impacts of operational disruption based on empirical evidence instead of assumptions. My attitude also improved as I started to think more proactively instead of reactively.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

The ideas I learned from BM7219 will be directly used in my family business where customer satisfaction depends on operational continuity. Competence in risk identification, recovery planning, and crisis communication will help me preserve the performance of the organisation under unexpected disruptions, increasing my effectiveness as a future manager (Crask, 2021).

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Create practical risk registers for business operations.

Improve my knowledge about business impact analysis and recovery planning.

Use the principles of organisational resilience in planning the events and customer operations.

Further investigate the issues of crisis communication and organisational adaptability.

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. If module specifically state module code and module name.

24 November 2025 – FT7208 Strategic Management

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg module / module related activity.

While the module entailed assessment of organisations with frameworks such as SWOT, PESTLE, and Porter's Five Forces, it was also acknowledged that strategic decisions have to take into account rapidly changing environments as well as the capabilities of the organisations. The analysis of the Costa Coffee case study has shown that the growth of the organisation is achievable through alignment of organisational resources with market opportunities, not operational success. In the beginning, strategic models were perceived as analytical instruments used separately. I then learned that frameworks should be integrated to help with evidence-based strategic decision-making (Johnson et al., 2020).

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

- What have you learnt through completing this activity?
- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

The module improved my analytical skills through the application of multiple strategic frameworks in different settings, while my behaviour became more disciplined because of the need to provide evidence-based recommendations. It is mentioned in the strategic management literature that competitive advantage comes out of constant analysis of the environment and adaptation (Farida & Setiawan, 2022). It affected my approach to academic problem-solving and future business decision-making.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

The strategic thinking I gained through FT7208 will be beneficial in terms of my future contribution to the family business since it allows me to evaluate the competitive environment and identify growth opportunities in it.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Apply multiple strategic frameworks in business analysis.

Monitor industry trends and competitor behaviour.

Make commercial decisions based on real organisational data.

Focus on critical thinking instead of descriptive analysis.

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. If module specifically state module code and module name.

4 February 2026 – BM7205 Managing Complex Projects

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg module / module related activity.

The BM7205 report on project management called for the comparison of stakeholder management and project governance in two organisations, namely Tesco and Crossrail, utilising recognised project management tools. The assignment was done by carrying out research on stakeholder theory, governance models and the PMBOK since I felt that using such models would support my arguments from an academic point of view (PMI, 2017). I realised that my failure lay in the fact that I failed to connect theory and evidence in my analysis. This weakness made my recommendations less persuasive, as the analysis required crucial evaluations rather than merely descriptions. I started to question the effectiveness of decisions taken by the company and to provide sufficient evidence to support my arguments.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

- What have you learnt through completing this activity?
- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

This assessment enhanced my understanding of stakeholder management and project governance while leading to considerable advancements in my ability to write critically and conduct research. The feedback sharpened my perception of academic writing by showing me that a postgraduate level of study involves more synthesis than explanation.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

I grew more disciplined in discerning whether the analysis conducted in each paragraph was genuine rather than a mere description of the processes of project management (PMI, 2017). This knowledge will definitely be useful for me in my future activities in the field of event management and in my family business.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Improve evaluative writing by providing challenging and insightful analysis of the assumptions made, as well as the suggestions given.

Use stakeholder mapping process for completing practical workplace projects.

Keep acquiring broader knowledge about project governance through professional development activities.

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. If module specifically state module code and module name.

28 January 2026 – BM7207 Business Project

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg module / module related activity.

BM7207 Business Project involved finding a profitable business opportunity and showing how feasible the idea is in terms of entrepreneurial and strategic analysis. This project fits perfectly with my desire to help my family business, so my task began with the generation of an innovative idea with strong market potential. However, during the process of assessment, I had to find out and confirm that this idea requires a serious evidence base, an extensive implementation plan, and a deep evaluation of commercial risks. According to the feedback, my idea was feasible, but my recommendations should be proved in a better way. I realised that I was quite persuasive in providing opportunity explanations, but not very effective in evaluating the weaknesses of this opportunity.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical reflective commentary about

- What have you learnt through completing this activity?
- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

Completing this report helped me get a better grasp of entrepreneurship, innovation and identifying opportunities, while the evaluations improved my strategic assessment skills. It changed my view of entrepreneurial decision-making; I learned that successful ideas do not occur due to mere enthusiasm but detailed contemplation (Hisrich et al., 2023). I have become more analytical with respect to consumers' needs, positioning, and risks involved in implementing solutions.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

All the improvements provided in this assessment will contribute greatly to my future work in my family's business, allowing me to evaluate development possibilities objectively. I am more confident to evaluate commercial viability by ensuring it is supported by factual justification.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Improve the market research before proposing new business ideas.

Assess commercial risks in conjunction with the business opportunities existing on the market.

Build recommendations grounded in strong academic and industry evidence.

Keep acquiring skills in entrepreneurial decision-making through reflection on practice.

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. If module specifically state module code and module name.

3 December 2025 – BM7200 Global Leadership Challenges: Leadership Group Discussion

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg module / module related activity.

The BM7200 team presentation evaluated not only the quality of our analysis regarding leadership but also our ability to convey complex ideas while working as a group. During the assessment of our presentation, we had an understanding of most significant ideas related to leadership, but there was less interaction between the speakers than expected. I concluded that effective communication with respect to leadership means understanding the topic and explaining it to the audience in a way that encourages them to engage with what we are saying (Northouse, 2022).

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

- What have you learnt through completing this activity?
- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

This assessment enabled me to improve my communication skills, as well as learn organisational procedures. With the constructive feedback provided at the end of this task, I am now aware of how I can improve professionally. I noticed that I became more confident as a collaborator as far as discussions in a group are concerned; from now on, I no longer have to depend on notes in order to respond to questions.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

The evaluation of the presentation has helped to achieve a better state of preparedness for graduate management through the acquisition of the skills necessary for leading meetings, delivering strategic presentations and collaborating with interdisciplinary teams.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Practice presentations together to enhance delivery and uniformity.

Improve self-assurance when responding to unanticipated inquiries.

Utilise feedback from colleagues to improve communication and presentation capabilities.

Keep improving audience engagement with public speaking experiences.

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. If module specifically state module code and module name.

16 October 2025 – BM7219 Managing Business Continuity: Crisis Management and Operational Resilience Seminar

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg module / module related activity.

The report on digital transformation implied more than just mentioning the digital means; it prescribed analysis of the relationship between technology, organisational culture and change management. I focused mainly on identifying digital innovations and investigating the ways in which they could be advantageous, mistakenly believing that this extensive discussion of technological means would improve the quality of the report.

According to the feedback I received about the assignment, my report demonstrated knowledge of digital transformation; however, the report did not include any critical evaluation of the challenges of implementation and sound justification of all strategic recommendations made. I understood that I had laid emphasis on the ways organisations should adopt technology instead of what makes it work in certain organisations.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

- What have you learnt through completing this activity?
- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

The feedback changed my attitude as I started providing arguments supported with better academic and business evidence. Therefore, I have gained confidence in evaluating digital transformation from both strategic and operational perspectives rather than treating technology as a separate business function.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?
identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

Through this evaluation, the knowledge acquired will help to empower the family business's future digital development through its capacity to critically assess customer-facing technology implementation, operational enhancement and implementation risks.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Assess digital projects based on strategic and organisational metrics.

Make recommendations stronger by taking into account implementation difficulties and stakeholder preparedness.

Continue to acquire knowledge about digital business through continuing professional development and industry research.

Scientific evaluation should be utilised in future strategic reports instead of mere discussion.

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. If module specifically state module code and module name.

10 October 2025 – BM7204 Accounting and Finance for Global Managers:
Revision and Applied Finance Workshop

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg module / module related activity.

The learning activity involved the application of finance independently, thereby uncovering my weaknesses in terms of ratio analysis and forecasting skills. I realised that effective financial management is a matter of judgement and not just of mathematical computation. To make informed judgements, managers need to look at financial information in light of the broader commercial environment and balance performance against strategy.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical reflective commentary about

- What have you learnt through completing this activity?
- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

The activity enhanced my ability to learn independently by persevering with new quantitative questions and not avoiding them. Now, I feel much more confident in reading financial statements and discussing commercial performance using managerial language. As evidenced by management accounting literature, financially literate managers make better decisions because they use financial information together with organisational objectives, which was my case during this learning activity (Merter & Balcioğlu, 2025).

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

Financial literacy achieved through the independent revision process will enable me to contribute more effectively in budgeting, pricing and cost management in my family business. Improved commercial judgment enhances employability as it prepares me for management graduate roles where evidence-based financial decision-making is essential for managers.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Continuously practice financial ratio and forecasting analysis.

Acquire advanced Excel skills for budgeting and reporting.

Apply financial information when analysing business opportunities.

Analyse quarterly financial statements to develop my commercial judgment.

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. If module specifically state module code and module name.

June 2026 – Integrative Reflection on the MBA Learning Journey (BM7200, BM7204, BM7205, BM7207, BM7219 and FT7208)

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg module / module related activity.

Preparing the BM7206 reassessment portfolio was essentially the final stage in grasping all that I have absorbed from the MBA program, as it involved tackling the comments given on my original submission. I chose to look closely at the comments left by the assessors and compare them with the assessment brief to find the weaknesses present in the submission. The comments pointed out that reflections on some of the modules were absent, that there were too few mentions of assessments, that the SWOT analysis was underdeveloped and that there was a whole tendency to describe rather than critically evaluate. I realised that my original portfolio was all about documenting my experiences and that it did not analyse the influence of my experiences on my knowledge, skills, attitudes and behaviours.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

- What have you learnt through completing this activity?
- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

The feedback helped me to realise that constructive comments are part of developing professionally rather than a sign of failure. In terms of behaviour, I became neater, more analytical and evaluated my development based on facts rather than mere descriptions. Reflective learning states that it is necessary to learn continuously to achieve professional competence (Moon, 2004).

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?
identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

The reassessment procedure has equipped me with the necessary skills to use self-examination as part of my management habits. Whether I start working in a graduate position or become a member of my family's business, I will be able to evaluate my performance on a more objective basis, react to received feedback and develop plans for further improvement.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Keep a detailed continuing professional development portfolio after graduation.

Analyse professional feedback each quarter and turn it into measurable goals of development.

Continue improving reflection skills through regular evaluation and journaling.
Participate in yearly CPD programs related to management and leadership.

SECTION 1Bii Comprehensive critical reflection on each academic assessment (x10 minimum separate entries, plus additional entry for each / every reassessment where applicable)

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. Eg module code, name and type (nature) of assessment.

December 2025 – BM7200 Global Leadership Challenges: Individual Leadership Report

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, ie. assessment task. Your preparation, your approach, the style, the enjoyable parts / less enjoyable, the challenges, the highs, Etc..

My feedback showed that I engaged with the topics of leadership, but my analysis and discussion were not strong enough. On reflection, I was too involved with collecting the literature, not with the synthesis of different approaches. Therefore, this assessment was a key learning opportunity for me as it helped me understand the difference between demonstration of knowledge and postgraduate research. Instead of considering this assessment as a criticism, I treated it as a tool which can assist me in improving my academic reasoning throughout the MBA course.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this assessment activity? - How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes competencies, or behaviour improved or developed? Reflect upon your feelings and action after you received the feedback too.

I became confident in the integration of several sources into the argument and became aware of the standards of postgraduate analytical writing. The experience has confirmed the importance of reflective practice because the review of the feedback has identified my specific behaviour, namely descriptive writing, which had to be improved in the following assessments (Schön, 1983).

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this assessment activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace? Identify knowledge, skill, competency and behavioural impact.

The assessment has helped me to learn how to analyse leadership issues critically rather than from the point of view of personal opinion. This skill is important for my future management career, as the evaluation of various leadership approaches can facilitate my decision-making and motivate employees.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal

Develop the skills of critical evaluation by analysing the rival leadership theories.

Use more peer-reviewed literature in my academic arguments.

Make plans for the essay before starting to write it.

Continue reflecting on the assessment feedback after each submission.

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. Eg module code, name and type (nature) of assessment.

October 2025 – BM7204 Accounting and Finance for Global Managers:
Financial Analysis Assessment

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, ie. assessment task. Your preparation, your approach, the style, the enjoyable parts / less enjoyable, the challenges, the highs, Etc..

The BM7204 financial assessment required a more complex methodological approach than all my previous academic tasks and implied the combination of quantitative analysis and managerial interpretation of the information. Initially, I did not have any confidence in accounting and finance, as my budgeting, ratio analysis, and financial evaluation seemed to be intimidating tasks. During the preparation, I practised a lot with calculations, but slowly I started to understand that the assessment valued not only my accuracy in calculations but also my managerial interpretations. Thus, the assessment required the explanation of what the information provided by the numbers meant for the company's performance.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this assessment activity? - How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes competencies, or behaviour improved or developed? Reflect upon your feelings and action after you received the feedback too.

This assessment has significantly increased my knowledge of financial reporting, budgeting, and performance analysis. I've improved my analytical skills by interpreting the financial evidence and explaining the commercially reasonable conclusions. The reflective learning has taught me that confidence comes from the repeated application and critical analysis of my work.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this assessment activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace? Identify knowledge, skill, competency and behavioural impact.

I have become more resilient when facing quantitative tasks; instead of avoiding them, I started to solve them by myself and practised a lot. The experience made me more commercially aware of prospects for improvement in a quantifiable manner.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal

Develop the skills of advanced financial analysis using Excel.

Practice interpreting the financial statements of real companies.

Apply budgeting in the work of the family business.

Improve my commercial reasoning along with the quantitative analysis (Kotronoulas, 2023).

1 DATE & TITLE OF ACTIVITY

Give the activity you undertook a name including the date it took place. Eg module code, name and type (nature) of assessment.

March 2026 – BM7219 Managing Business Continuity in a Global Context: Business Continuity Report (Marriott International)

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, ie. assessment task. Your preparation, your approach, the style, the enjoyable parts / less enjoyable, the challenges, the highs, Etc..

The task set in the BM7219 assessment was to conduct a critical evaluation of the business continuity strategy at Marriott International, along with some suggestions for its improvement based on organisational resilience theories. The biggest challenge was moving beyond describing the disruption experienced by the organisation to critical analysis of why the continuity strategies at Marriott are good or not good enough. Positive feedback showed strong organisational analysis and application of continuity concepts, but at the same time, suggested involving a wider body of literature to make recommendations even stronger.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this assessment activity? - How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes competencies, or behaviour improved or developed? Reflect upon your feelings and action after you received the feedback too.

The assignment has enriched my understanding of organisational resilience and improved my research and critical analysis skills due to combining academic and industry evidence. My achievement of one of the best grades in the module proved that the right combination of careful planning and wide reading results in more convincing academic arguments.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this assessment activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace? Identify knowledge, skill, competency and behavioural impact.

The assessment has helped to develop those competencies that will be valuable for event management and family business, where resilience of operations and confidence of customers are crucial. Improved skills in assessing risks and creating contingency strategies, along with justifying managerial recommendations, will be useful for making decisions in future when faced with the uncertainties of the organisation.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal

Continue combining a wide academic literature in the strategic reports.

Use business continuity principles in family business operations.

Make stronger evidence-based recommendations based on industry evidence.

Improve organisational risk assessment through practical case analysis.

April 2026 – FT7208 Strategic Management: Strategic Analysis Report (Costa Coffee)

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, ie. assessment task. Your preparation, your approach, the style, the enjoyable parts / less enjoyable, the challenges, the highs, Etc..

The FT7208 strategic management report included the evaluation of the competitive position of Costa Coffee using a number of strategic frameworks and the formation of realistic strategic recommendations. The complexity of integrating different analytical models resulted in the tendency to describe each framework separately rather than to create an overall strategic argument.

Feedback taught me the necessity to synthesise the information and provide a better justification for the recommendations made, along with more evidence-based critical evaluation.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this assessment activity? - How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes competencies, or behaviour improved or developed? Reflect upon your feelings and action after you received the feedback too.

The assignment has greatly improved my strategic thinking, research and critical writing skills. Instead of considering analytical frameworks as separate academic tools, I learned how to combine them into one argument about the performance of the organisation. Feedback received has caused behavioural changes, according to which synthesis and justification are now considered more important than the simple application of frameworks in subsequent academic assignments.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this assessment activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace? Identify knowledge, skill, competency and behavioural impact.

The competencies obtained will help me to take part in the family business and improve its market analysis, competitive position and strategic planning in the long term. Now it is possible to evaluate commercial opportunities and justify business decisions not intuitively, but based on evidence produced through strategic analysis.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal

Improve the integration of different strategic frameworks in reports. - Make stronger recommendations with the help of deep academic and industry research. - Use strategic analysis in real business planning of the family business.

February 2026 – BM7205 Managing Complex Projects: Individual Essay (Tesco and Crossrail)

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, ie. assessment task. Your preparation, your approach, the style, the enjoyable parts / less enjoyable, the challenges, the highs, Etc..

This assessment required a critical assessment of the practices of project management through analysis of stakeholder management in Tesco and Crossrail. The task required application of project management theory to two different companies requiring comparison, and not individual analysis of each of the organisations separately. The structure of the essay involved stakeholder theory, governance, and the PMBOK approach, assuming that the use of well-known approaches in project management would make a good argument.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this assessment activity? - How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes competencies, or behaviour improved or developed? Reflect upon your feelings and action after you received the feedback too.

Through this assessment, my knowledge of stakeholder management and project governance was broadened, and the skill of critical research with the help of organisational comparative analysis was developed. The feedback suggested developing the evidence-based arguments and reducing the share of the descriptive discussion, making it easier to synthesise academic theories and organisational practices. From the behavioural point of view, I became more rigorous about asking myself if each paragraph involves evaluation of concepts and not just their description.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this assessment activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace? Identify knowledge, skill, competency and behavioural impact.

The competencies developed in this assessment will be useful for my further participation in the management of events and business operations involving collaboration with many stakeholders. Now I am better prepared for identifying the interests of stakeholders, communicating strategically, and substantiating my decisions concerning projects with the help of evidence-based analysis.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal

Improve the integration of organisational evidence in my academic work.

Apply stakeholder mapping in practical business projects.

Improve the critical assessment of project results rather than their descriptive narration.

Further develop the knowledge of project governance.

January 2026 – BM7207 Business Project: Business Opportunity and Innovation Assessment

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, ie. assessment task. Your preparation, your approach, the style, the enjoyable parts / less enjoyable, the challenges, the highs, Etc..

The BM7207 Business Project assessment was concerned with the search for a business opportunity and its justification in terms of entrepreneurship and strategy. The preparation for the assessment involved investigation of the customers' needs, competitive positioning, and feasibility of implementation of the business idea, which was very close to my desire to contribute to my family business. I realised that a sustainable business opportunity can be created with the help of evidence-based analysis of the market. This shift made me look at the assignment as the manager's evaluation of commercial opportunities.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this assessment activity? - How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes competencies, or behaviour improved or developed? Reflect upon your feelings and action after you received the feedback too.

My strategic thinking was improved with simultaneous evaluation of the demand, the value of customers, and business feasibility, and my willingness to take calculated risks became more proactive. I also gained the confidence that I can apply academic frameworks to commercial decisions, thus assessing opportunities not only in the academic environment.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this assessment activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace? Identify knowledge, skill, competency and behavioural impact.

The entrepreneurial competencies developed in this assessment have a direct application to the development of my family business. I am better prepared for evaluating new services, finding customer opportunities, and suggesting business improvements with the help of the structured analysis.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal

Develop business ideas using systematic market research and feasibility analysis.

Improve my commercial evaluation with the help of customer and competitor analysis.

Develop my entrepreneurial skills with networking and continuing professional development.

Use innovation frameworks for proposing improvements in the family business.

December 2025 – BM7200 Global Leadership Challenges: Group Presentation Assessment

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, ie. assessment task. Your preparation, your approach, the style, the enjoyable parts / less enjoyable, the challenges, the highs, Etc..

In the beginning, I was focused on the precision of my section, but I understood that the quality of our presentation is the product of teamwork rather than individual work. Another challenge of the assessment was presentation anxiety and responding properly to questions from the tutors and other students.

Reflecting afterwards, I concluded that leadership communication should be clear, confident, and engaging instead of just reading prepared material. Thus, it has become evident to me that communication is a skill of a practical leader, not a theoretical activity.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this assessment activity? - How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes competencies, or behaviour improved or developed? Reflect upon your feelings and action after you received the feedback too.

This assessment helped me develop communication, collaboration and presentation skills. I have gained confidence in communicating complex ideas of leadership to an audience. The collaboration experience contributed to my skills of negotiation and understanding the views of others.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this assessment activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace? Identify knowledge, skill, competency and behavioural impact.

The skills acquired through this presentation are directly relevant to graduate management, as part of the duties of a graduate manager is presenting recommendations and working with multidisciplinary teams. As far as the family business is concerned, it will allow me to run meetings better, communicate with the clients and present my proposals strategically.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal

Continue building up my confidence through presentations.

Practise answering questions without the use of prepared scripts.

Develop skills in designing visual presentations and engaging the audience.

Give myself feedback on each formal presentation.

February 2026 – Digital Transformation: Organisational Digital Strategy Report

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, ie. assessment task. Your preparation, your approach, the style, the enjoyable parts / less enjoyable, the challenges, the highs, Etc..

The assessment required me to look at the competitive position of the company, and also at the interaction between technologies, corporate culture and business transformation. One of the difficulties that I encountered was an assumption that any digitalisation inevitably leads to good performance.

Thanks to wider reading, I realised that successful transformation of the organisation requires leadership commitment, employee involvement and good change management. Therefore, this assessment has shown me how to critically evaluate technology as an organisational capability.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this assessment activity? - How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes competencies, or behaviour improved or developed? Reflect upon your feelings and action after you received the feedback too.

This assessment helped me to reinforce my knowledge about digital strategy and organisational innovation as well as to develop my critical evaluation skills through analysis of technological changes. It also transformed the way I act, making me get used to the latest technologies while noticing how important it is to keep learning all the time in the swiftly changing business world. Moreover, it instilled confidence in me when combining technological innovations and customer-centrism in business decision-making.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this assessment activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace? Identify knowledge, skill, competency and behavioural impact.

The insights I gained during the preparation of this assessment are practically relevant for the family business since there are plenty of opportunities for using digital technologies for the improvement of customer engagement, planning and service provision. Developing digital awareness makes me more employable because of the necessity for managers to combine technological expertise with strategic business decisions.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal

Continue gaining knowledge about digital business and new technologies.

Identify opportunities to improve customer experience through the application of technology.

Work on developing change management skills along with technological expertise.

Monitor trends of digital innovation to make evidence-based decisions.

May 2026 – BM7206 Continuous Professional Development Portfolio (Original Submission)

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, ie. assessment task. Your preparation, your approach, the style, the enjoyable parts / less enjoyable, the challenges, the highs, Etc..

Although it was the most significant piece of work within my MBA programme, my original BM7206 continuous professional development portfolio failed.

Despite using the portfolio template, the original version focused on the description of various activities rather than on their critical reflection and the way they affected my KSAB development. I misunderstood the assessment brief and omitted several mandatory reflections about modules, assessments and personal development. I could see that the main problem was not the effort put into the task but the lack of reflective content.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this assessment activity? - How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes competencies, or behaviour improved or developed? Reflect upon your feelings and action after you received the feedback too.

Failing this assessment helped me improve my reflective skills the most because it made me realise the difference between descriptive and critical reflection and changed my perception of feedback as an instrument of professional development. Furthermore, the experience made me behave more attentively when it comes to assessment briefs and reflective writing in general.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this assessment activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace? Identify knowledge, skill, competency and behavioural impact.

Failing this assessment helped me improve my reflective skills the most because it made me realise the difference between descriptive and critical reflection and changed my perception of feedback as an instrument of professional development. Furthermore, the experience made me behave more attentively when it comes to assessment briefs and reflective writing in general.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal

Critically review the assessment brief before starting new assignments.

Consistently use academic literature in reflective writing.

Evaluate my personal development instead of just describing activities.

Keep writing a reflective journal.

September 2026 – BM7206 Reassessment Portfolio Preparation

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, ie. assessment task. Your preparation, your approach, the style, the enjoyable parts / less enjoyable, the challenges, the highs, Etc..

Preparation of the reassessment portfolio entailed a completely different approach compared to the original one. I started with an analysis of the assessment brief together with detailed marker feedback in order to identify deficiencies in my previous portfolio. I had to reconstruct my MBA journey, examine feedback from each module and relate each reflection to KSAB development and employability. With the help of integrating academic theory and my real experience with future action planning, I understood the concept of reflective practice better as a continuous professional behaviour rather than an isolated assessment task.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this assessment activity? - How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes competencies, or behaviour improved or developed? Reflect upon your feelings and action after you received the feedback too.

Behaviourally, I became more organised in documenting my learning experiences and linking them with the measurable objectives of development (Kolb, 2015). I became more confident after understanding the relationship between feedback, reflection and continuous learning as tools of professional competence development. Reflection can be considered the most valuable when it results in the change of behaviour and decision-making skills and does not remain just an academic task.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Comprehensive critical review of how this assessment activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace? Identify knowledge, skill, competency and behavioural impact.

This reassessment prepared me to continue my continuous professional development as a lifelong professional behaviour. Being a graduate manager and working in the family business in the future, I will be better at evaluating my performance, responding to feedback and developing the competencies I need in a dynamically changing business environment.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal

Continue using the CPD portfolio after graduation.

Review my professional feedback every quarter to determine areas of development.

Take part in annual CPD activities related to leadership and management.

Use reflective evaluation in decision-making processes as a manager.

SECTION 1Biii Comprehensive critical reflection on your personal and professional development throughout the past year. (x minimum 5 separate entries)

October 2025 – June 2026: Engagement in the Family Business

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg the personal/professional learning event beyond your University studies.

During the completion of the MBA studies, I took part in work in the family business, engaging in duties concerned with the operation of the business, dealing with customers and making operational decisions. While the role was seen initially as a purely practical one, the integration of postgraduate education involved looking at business activities with a managerial eye. The use of strategic management, finance, and business continuity knowledge helped deal with various issues like customer service, scheduling, and resource allocation.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this activity?

- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

I became more ready to accept responsibilities and realised that successful management requires constant evaluation and not just solving problems. The experience made clear the benefits of reflective professional practice by showing that learning becomes meaningful when the experiences in the workplace are critically reviewed and used to improve performance in the future.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

The role helped prepare for future positions as a graduate manager by improving the ability to integrate considerations of the customer with decision-making. At the same time, I became more confident in participating in the development of the family business by using evidence to make operational improvements rather than going with my gut.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Use simple performance measures to evaluate operational efficiency.

Use strategic and financial analysis to make decisions about business improvement.

Keep reflecting on customer contacts to improve customer service.

Take more leadership responsibilities in day-to-day business operations.

November 2025 – May 2026: Gym Coaching and Fitness Mentoring

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg the personal/professional learning event beyond your University studies.

I saw coaching initially as a purely technical activity based on physical performance. But together with the Global Leadership module, I understood that coaching is a leadership activity based on communication, empathy and behavioural influence. In order to communicate with people of various ages, confidence levels, and levels of physical condition, I needed to modify communication techniques and methods of motivation for every person. I learned that sustainable improvement is possible when the person gets motivated, listened to and guided. Thus, the experience helped me appreciate the concept of situational leadership and understand the importance of emotional intelligence in developing people.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this activity?

- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

This activity improved my skills in communicating with people, motivating and leading. My confidence was built through guiding other people, while I changed my understanding of leadership to helping people unlock their potential rather than just controlling their behaviour. I also became more patient and empathic in my responses to different types of people.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

The coaching experience helped develop skills directly applicable to graduate management, namely motivating, communicating and building relationships with people. In the family business, these skills will help me better assist my colleagues, deal with customers and build better relations in the workplace.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Develop coaching and mentoring skills further through continuing professional development (CPD).

Improve the feedback conversations by using structured questioning.

Keep practising adaptive communication with various people.

Use motivational leadership in future managerial roles.

September 2025 – June 2026: Transitioning to Postgraduate Education and Life in the United Kingdom

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg the personal/professional learning event beyond your University studies.

Starting my MBA in the UK has been a serious personal and professional challenge for me since I had to adapt to a new academic system, yet, at the same time, to independent life and a multicultural environment. The first weeks have been rather difficult for me from the point of view of participation in rather complicated seminars. Even though I have been well aware of theoretical knowledge, I have often been hesitant to share my opinions due to my lack of self-confidence in delivering my thoughts in the environment of other students from various academic and cultural backgrounds.

With the advancement of the semester, routine group work and discussions in class changed my behaviour. Studying with classmates from various countries gave me an opportunity to see alternative paths for leadership, strategy and management, thereby allowing me to think of disagreements not as something negative but as a chance to learn. In addition, combining postgraduate studies with my employment also taught me time management and endurance with respect to tasks during busy periods of my life.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this activity?

- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

Looking back at this experience, I can say that adjusting to the UK was not merely about moving to another country. It was a process of becoming a more independent, culturally sensitive and reflective professional who would be able to work with other people from various countries.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

Successful adaptation to postgraduate study improved the ability to work with diverse groups of people and positively respond to organisational changes. All these skills are very important for future graduate management, where cultural awareness, resilience and adaptability are key factors in people management and functioning in the international business environment.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Strengthen intercultural communication by building a culturally inclusive professional network of contacts.

Practice good time management by blending work and growth responsibilities.

Attend business and networking events with multicultural topics to gain more exposure.

March 2026 – Developing the Professional Identity and Graduate Employability

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg the personal/professional learning event beyond your University studies.

Prior to attending the careers workshop, I was confident in preparing my CV and less confident about my self-introduction and other aspects of professional conduct. My first thought was to observe rather than participate, as it reflected my lack of confidence in discussing my strengths beyond academic achievements.

One of the significant things that happened was that I spoke with a careers consultant who explained to me that my experience at the family business and as a gym coach was a valuable illustration of such leadership, customer relationship management and operational proficiency. That helped me to understand employability in a somewhat different way, namely, that employers evaluate both universally applicable competencies and academic background (CITB, 2026). In retrospect, I understood that networking is not a way to gather contacts but a tool to express my professional value.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this activity?

- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

My perspective shifted from regarding networking as frightening to seeing it as a skill that can be developed and acquired. I started being proactive in initiating discussions, expressing my career aspirations and evaluating the experience and background I have as proof of being capable of performing managerial tasks at a graduate level.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

The networking skills enhance my future contribution to my family business, as I will be able to foster better relations with clients, suppliers and third parties while acting professionally for the company.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Attend a minimum of three professional networking occasions annually.

Continue to develop my communication approach regarding my transferable management competencies.

Seek mentorship from seasoned business specialists for further professional growth.

Keep my CV and professional profile evergreen in terms of CPD milestones and accomplishments.

September 2025 – September 2026: Reflection on Personal Development during the Entire MBA Programme

2 COMPREHENSIVE CRITICAL REVIEW OF THE ACTIVITY

Comprehensive critical outline of the event, eg the personal/professional learning event beyond your University studies.

Reflecting on the entire MBA journey shows that the biggest personal development happened as a result of transforming the professional identity rather than acquiring certain business theories. After getting constructive feedback on multiple assignments and failing the CPD portfolio on the first attempt, I identified my tendency towards descriptive writing and lack of critical analysis. Instead of seeing those weaknesses as immutable aspects of personality, feedback was used to improve analytical thinking, research skills and reflective practice. As a result, the MBA experience became a continuous process of personal transformation, where failures and successes equally contribute to the learning process.

3 LEARNING OUTCOME PERSONAL IMPACT

Comprehensive reflective commentary about

-What have you learnt through completing this activity?

- How have your knowledge, skills, attitudes, competencies, or behaviour improved or developed?

The year helped to develop self-awareness, resilience and reflective skills more than any previous educational stage. Knowledge was acquired in leadership, finance and strategy, but the biggest behavioural change was increased openness to constructive feedback and self-reflection discipline. Now I see education as a continuous professional responsibility and not just a chain of educational tasks. The theory of reflective learning states that professional competence is developed throughout experience and its evaluation. This principle is now applied to career development and continuous learning.

4 IMPACT AT WORK / FUTURE WORK/ PERSONAL POTENTIAL IMPACT

Critical review of how this activity has made a difference to your capability and performance in your role as a student and /or in the workplace?

identify knowledge, skill, attitude, competency and behavioural impact.

It will be easier for me to face organisational challenges, receive feedback constructively and drive improvement processes within employment and family business thanks to my personal development throughout this graduation.

5 FUTURE ACTIONS

What do you need to do next in relation to this area – set personal target/goal.

Assess the objectives of Continuous Professional Development every six months so as to ensure they are advancing consistently.

Consistently maintain a reflective journal as a professional practice for growth and progress throughout professional career.

Get certificates in related areas of leadership and project management.

Develop lifelong learning through updated academic literature and continuous professional development activities.
